

CONNECTICUT TOOLING AND MACHINING ASSOCIATION

CTMA CORPORATE SPONSORSHIP

*Invest in Connecticut's Manufacturing...
Invest in Connecticut's Future!*

WHO: The Connecticut Tooling and Machining Association (CTMA), a Chapter of the National Tooling and Machining Association (NTMA), is a trade organization representing the business and technical interests of custom precision manufacturers since 1943.

WHAT: Member companies design & make tools, dies, molds, special machines and precision machined parts. These processes represent the backbone of the manufacturing supply chain.

WHY: Corporate sponsorships are being solicited to afford CTMA the opportunity to expand its offerings and increase member's competitive advantages. This initiative will be met through superior educational programs, group purchasing agreements, networking opportunities, Lean Manufacturing initiatives and advocating favorable government policies.

WHERE: These efforts are an important step to allow our manufacturing base to remain competitive and preserve important jobs in the state of Connecticut.

CONNECTICUT MANUFACTURING..

- is the driving force behind Connecticut's economy;
- provides 17% of the state's employment; and
- is the stimulus for statewide job growth as every manufacturing job creates two additional jobs in the service sector.

WHEN: CTMA needs your assistance NOW in order to help its members compete in a global marketplace and overcome enormous challenges over the next few years as foreign competition, labor resources and raw material costs continue to push operating costs higher.
